Counterfeit United States Savings Bonds

Security Corner

The U.S. Secret Service has confirmed the U.S. Department of the Treasury has identified an increase in activity associated with fraudulent United States Savings Bonds (Series EE and Series I). This fraud scheme often involves fraudsters relying on individuals to cash the counterfeit bonds for a share of the illicit profit. The volume of counterfeit bonds is consistently growing, with estimated loss amounts being reported at $30 million. Please remain alert. State bonds are not used for quick cash and customers should not accept them from unknown individuals or entities. If instructed to redeem a savings bond by another party for a partial payout or other benefit, IT'S A SCAM! Please reach out to our Fraud Department at (812) 492-8200 if you have any questions.
